

Historic New Boston Bus Tour - Sunday afternoon, October 6th

It isn't every day that you see a gigantic coach tour bus cruising along the back roads of New Boston! This special bus will take history buffs on a guided tour of our town on Sunday, October 6. Sign up for either the 1 PM or 3 PM tour and enjoy Bob Todd's historical anecdotes of what gives New Boston its character – its rich past!

Bob will point out the buildings in the village center that were built after the Fire of 1887. Then we'll go beyond the cemetery to the landmark which is New Boston's breathtaking Joe English Hill. The 28-mile tour loops around back roads to view historic homes, passes through the First Settlement Area and site of the first sawmill, goes by the Great Meadow and returns to Town Hall past the Whipple Farm and the unique Railroad Depot.

With history assistants Nonah Poole and Gail Parker on board, this 90 minute tour is sure to entertain and inform! Reservations must be made by signing up at the Whipple Free Library in New Boston. Tickets are $10.00 paid in advance, limited to 53 seats per tour, and available for ages 16 and up. The tours start at the Town Hall and free refreshments will be served in the Gazebo afterwards. This event is part of New Boston's year-long 250th Anniversary celebration and is sponsored by the New Boston Historical Society. For more information call Dot Marden at 487-2728 or see the calendar page at: www.newbostonhistoricalsociety.com.

Picture of 2004 bus tour